Dear Oxford Community:

In the wake of recent events, our sincere prayers and sympathies go out to the victims, families, and staff of Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School. These kinds of tragedies are devastating. As we all struggle to understand the realities of such tragedy, our resolve strengthens even more to ensure that Oxford Community Schools provides a safe environment for our students, staff, and community.

There are numerous changes and improvements the district has made throughout the years to keep our students safe. The ongoing Safety Committee, comprised of community officials, emergency responders, district personnel, students, parents and community members, has identified and helped implement many safeguards for our schools. Our work as a team has been extremely valuable. However, this work does not end. It is ongoing and ever changing. Our next Safety Committee meeting in March will include more discussions and plans to reinforce our current safety measures.

All suggestions discussed at the safety meeting are reviewed and considered, as we continue our efforts to ensure a safe and secure environment in our district. We welcome your input. If you have something to share, please feel free to email Sam Barna, Assistant Superintendent of Business and Operations, at sam.barna@oxfordschools.org or call 248.969.5008. Your thoughts and suggestions are important to us.

Thank you for your continued support as we consider it a privilege to serve our students, their families, and the entire Oxford community.

Sincerely,

Tim Throne
Superintendent
Oxford Community Schools
